

Life, Death & Cocktails

Effective May 15, 2026

The Main Menu

The only bar in Adelaide with a real coffin.

House Rules

“ We don’t aim to be the fun Police, we simply want everyone to enjoy their visit “.

Our Bar Layout

Unless you have a degree in interior design, please refrain from rearranging our furniture as it messes with our feng shui and the movement around the venue.

Identification

Identification is required to be presented on request, regardless of whether you are drinking. We need to be able to identify you. CCTV operates throughout the venue.

Games

Feel free to grab a game from the game cube to play with friends. Please pack up after yourselves

Be Nice. Drink Responsibly

We reserve the right to not serve you based on Responsible Service of Alcohol rules and your behaviour.

If you become annoying we will ask you to leave. Our team know their stuff, are responsible hosts, and their decisions are final. We want you to have a good day tomorrow too

WI FI Yes we have Wi Fi. Ask Us. Telstra doesn’t work.

Last Drinks

When we are open late, we stop taking orders at 1.30am. Sometimes we stop earlier.

Dress Code

All Patrons must be well dressed in clean attire. No track suits or active sports wear. No thong footwear, face masks, singlets or tank tops.

Don’t hog a table

We know you like the place and enjoy the games. It costs a lot to run this venue so please buy a drink or two.

Who invented the Espresso Martini?

The honour of this goes to British bartending guru Dick Bradsell. He's credited with revolutionizing the cocktail scene in London in the 1980s.

The story goes that Bradsell created the drink after a young model, who Bradsell claims is now world famous, sidled up to the bar and asked for something to "wake me up and fk me up". His solution was a combination of vodka, fresh espresso, coffee liqueur and sugar, shaken into a frothy mix of addiction.

Why do we garnish an Espresso Martini with 3 coffee beans?

This is the cocktail's trademark and are said to represent health, wealth and happiness.
